The Vicki Torr Emerging Artist Prize

In 2006 the Ausglass Directors instituted the Vicki Torr Online Gallery Prize for emerging glass artists who exhibited in the Ausglass Online Gallery. In 2019, the Online Gallery was closed, and 'The Prize was changed to the Vicki Torr Emerging Artist Prize for those with professional experience of up to five years, including students. The winning entry is now peer-selected with the Prize awarded on the basis of the highest number of votes cast by Ausglass members. Application entries and competition voting from Members are now received on-line.'

The Klaus Moje Projekt:

'... is the initiative of institutions and individuals that played a large part in Klaus' life and whose lives have been touched in many ways by his commitment, influence and career. The institutions - Canberra Glassworks, Australian National University School of Art and Design, and Ausglass (Australian Association of Glass Artists) and the wider community of Australian glass artists continue to work together in the design and development of The Projekt, in what will be a dynamic process of evolution.

The outcome of this process -The Klaus Moje Projekt - is a suite of opportunities through which artists working in glass across the world will expand their creative horizons.' <https://www.klausmojeprojekt.org/>

Social media:

2001: The email group, Ausglass2, was established in 2001 (trial in October, online in December) by Arthur Sale. (Autumn 2002 'Ausglass on-line')

2001: Ausglass website, co-ordinator Glenistair Hancock, with subcommittee Arthur Sale, and Tyrone Renton. (Autumn 2002 'Ausglass on-line') Later: Arthur Sale; Simon James, Julian Stannus (and Ausglass Online Gallery), Spike Deane; from 2011 Eileen Gordon maintained the Ausglass Online Gallery, and from 2016-2019 Spike Dean was Ausglass Instagram editor.

2018: Mailchimp: 'Ausglass started using Mailchimp to distribute Electronic Direct Mail (EDMs), replacing the Ausglass Review newsletter.'

2020: 'From January 2020, Ausglass began a regular monthly newsletter using the Mailchimp platform.'

2020 'Facebook, Instagram, Mailchimp, Pinterest and Twitter are all being used to increase awareness and appreciation of contemporary glass art in Australia.'

2020: New website launched 2020, doing away with on-line member access and self-managed profiles/galleries. 'In 2020, with a huge thanks to Ausglass Secretary, Peter Nolan, Ausglass was able to transition to the new and much more contemporary ausglass.org website.'

2020: 'Ausglass has an e-mail distribution list, members@ausglass.org.au, which enables Members to communicate with all other Ausglass Members via email. This useful facility promotes an online community where Members seek assistance with production matters; information; updates and knowledge transfer.'
